Editorial

This will be brief, owing to the hot weather and my own family commitments! I'm drained of ideas and suggestions. Brain fog has set in with the weather.

So I'd just like to say that Kingston children have been enjoying themselves and doing us all proud. The recent Teddy Bear Parachuting was lots of fun with lots of participants. Hudson plans to do his scarecrow competition again this year (more next month) and Ella is planning a cake contest/sale, both in aid of charity. News of this and the September BBQ are in the magazine.

Enjoy the weather in this unusual summer.

Vicar's Letter:

Hello! I'm Helene (pronounced Helen!) and I'm the new associate priest living just next door in the village of Bourn – I moved into the village at the end of May with my husband Jonathan and two of our adult children. We moved from Love's Farm, St Neots where I'd worked for ten years as the community chaplain and pioneer minister.

These past weeks have been full of goodbyes and hellos, of packing and unpacking boxes – all of which has given lots of time and occasion to ponder the memories made and to wonder what adventures lay ahead. For Jonathan and me, and maybe for you too, lots of the things in our home have a story, where they came from, or who gave us the things we carry from one chapter of our story into the next. It's almost always true that at the heart of everything that matters most to us are the relationships that memories are built around. When they work well our relationships root and resource us and when our days are done, our story is often told relationally by those we've mattered to.

People and place both feel really important to me and so I can honestly say that I'm looking forward to getting to know you – to meeting you in the all the places that provide us with 'bumping into' opportunities. So far I've met some of the village children at the school in Bourn and some of you at the Kingston parish church, including at the superb musical event a few weeks back and then at the gift day afternoon, where the scones were delicious and the teddy bears all extremely brave as they were launched from the church tower!

Maybe we'll get to say hello at a church service too. Can you imagine how many memories have been made there over the centuries? It offers a place of deep connection and belonging and, like close family and friends, a period of absence can soon be undone, intimacy discovered or restored and fresh chapters written. Maybe that's a hope and prayer I carry at the start of my time here and why, once the summer holidays have been had and enjoyed, I'd love you to consider, 'coming and seeing' the village church and sharing in the next chapter of its, and your story, here in Kingston. God bless and be with you and those you'll make memories with over these summer weeks – and if there's any particular way I could pray for you, or anything I could do, please do get in touch..

Church Gift Day: Saturday 11th July

The Gift Day, held on the 11th July, has raised £4,730 to date, most of which was Gift Aided. Kingston church should now be able to meet its running costs for the rest of the year. In addition, there were three new standing orders. There was outstanding participation from the Kingstonian teddy bear (and other soft toy) community with about twenty parachuting from the church tower, assisted by Jack Diggle and Nigel Pearson. No serious injuries were sustained, although some suffered from mild concussion as a result of parachute malfunctions.

Thanks to everyone who made scones and otherwise helped out on the day. And, above all, many thanks indeed to all those who made donations, small or large.

News Update from Bourn Primary

It was fantastic to see the children using the pool for swimming lessons this term and my thanks go to everyone involved in ensuring swimming happens at Bourn, whether this be fundraising, the cleaning, daily checks or volunteering to help in the sessions.

Thank you, too, to the BSA team and volunteers who organised a fantastic Summer disco – the children had an amazing time.

It was fantastic to see the Year 3 and 4 children enjoying themselves so much on the stage as they performed their Cinematic Celebration. Year 6 are currently preparing for their end of year performance and we are all looking forward to it. It certainly looks like we have some budding young actors here at Bourn Primary. Thank you to all the families for support with learning the lines and organising the costumes.

Some of the Year 6 children entered the CAM Academy Trust Reading event, with a brilliant book review winning the Year 6 category.

We welcomed the next Acorn class for their stay and play sessions and it was lovely to see the new Acorns in school enjoying themselves and exploring their new classroom. The children have also had their transition days where they have met their new teaching teams and completed some very challenging STEM activities.

On 1 July we held our annual Sports Day - the day was a huge success with so many children joining in and supporting each other to achieve. The children demonstrated our Bourn values throughout the whole day. It was lovely to have so many parents and carers come and join us.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who has supported the school over the past academic year. Bourn really is a school filled with hope where we know that the children can achieve great things. The staff team cannot do this without your support to ensure that the children flourish - thank you. I wish you all a very restful and relaxing Summer and look forward to welcoming the children back in September.

SMARTPHONE FREE CHILDHOOD

THE PARENT PACT

Want to wait to give your child a smartphone but don't want them to be the odd one out?

You're not alone!

There's a growing movement of parents across Britain who are choosing to wait to give their children smartphones, and it's simple to get involved.

The Parent Pact is a way to join together with other families in your school to agree to delay getting your child a smartphone until at least 14 (when they're a bit older and more able to deal with everything the online world brings).

It's all about strength in numbers – if your child knows that other kids in their class won't be getting a smartphone for a few years either, the peer pressure dissolves. Over 100,000 families have signed already, and it's growing fast.

It takes 30 seconds to sign the Parent Pact – and you can see how many others in your child's class, school and county have signed on the live leaderboards.

Joan Brennan 6th April 1930 – 5th April 2026

Joan Brennan came to live at Green Ley in Kingston with her family – husband, Ted and children, Caroline and Mark – in 1966. Both she and Ted were natives of Sheffield. Joan's life began in tragedy: her mother died in childbirth. She was brought up by her uncle John and aunts, Bertha, Agnes and Mina. Joan thrived in her adoptive family, living over her uncle's cobbler's shop in Attercliffe, at the heart of Sheffield's steel industry.

Joan attended the Roman Catholic Notre Dame School and went on to read English, History and Psychology at Sheffield University where she met Ted Brennan who had just completed his National Service. According to Caroline, 'When all her Psychology notes blew away down the street in a gale, Joan demonstrated characteristic shrewdness, asking the most studious class member, my father, if she could copy his notes. Joan came first in the Psychology exam, and this start to their relationship led to marriage in 1953'.

The Brennans moved to Bournemouth where Ted was a Lecturer in Education, training teachers. The family then came to Kingston when Ted was appointed Tutor in the History of Education at the Cambridge Institute of Education. Joan's career was also in education: initially teaching English, History and PE part-time in secondary schools, before transferring to primary schooling. She became Language and Reading Development Advisor for Cambridgeshire's primary schools, a role in which she excelled and very much enjoyed.

Joan and Ted's son Mark was born with autism, a condition little understood in the 1960s. Their devotion to Mark led them – with Canon Owen Spencer-Thomas and others – to become founders of the Cambridgeshire Autistic Society and of the East Anglian Autistic Support Trust (now part of Autism Anglia) which raised £1.5 million to establish the residential care centre, Juniper House in Stretham, south of Ely; they were also supporters of the National Autism Society and of Middlefield Manor in Barton Mills, Suffolk, where Mark lived until his death in 2014. In the days before emails, Zoom and mobile phones this commitment entailed an enormous burden of correspondence and committee meetings.

In 1981 the Brennans left Kingston and moved to Conduit Head Road in Cambridge. In retirement Ted became very much involved with the University of the Third Age: he died in 2015 (obituary Parish and Church Magazine, May 2015). Twelve years ago Joan moved to Richmond (retirement) Village in Witney so as to be near to Caroline and husband Richard in Oxford: this proved to be a sensible and happy decision. In later life Joan supported the charity Sibs, for brothers and sisters of disabled children and adults, and sponsored Marky, an assistance dog provided by the Sheffield branch of Support Dogs. She never lost touch with her home city.

Joan was petite, slightly elfin, always stylish with her hair well-cut in a Mary Quant-esque bob; she loved colour and statement pieces of antique jewellery. 'Joan had such a strong aesthetic sense throughout life', says Caroline, 'She delighted in Art and was passionate about collecting antiques and jewellery. Across decades, she scoured antiques markets for beautiful bargains.' Joan adored dancing, running the Ballroom Dancing Club at university and becoming a devoted 'Strictly' aficionado in recent years. In the 1950s she and Ted were intrepid motor-bikers, exploring remote parts of France, Spain, Italy and the former Yugoslavia. They remained adventurous in old age, visiting Caroline and her husband Richard in Canada, Argentina and Rome.

Joan was intellectually curious, open-minded and a good listener, non-judgemental and self-effacing. My mother often said that 'Joan Brennan is the clearest thinker I have ever met'. Her natural empathy made her an invaluable friend and confidante. She was hospitable, proffering tea and her legendary ginger flapjack to friends and visitors alike.

Joan, like her husband Ted, was a remarkable individual of absolute integrity. Both came from what might be perceived as unpromising backgrounds, growing up during the war, a time of considerable privation. Both benefitted from their education and found vocations in public service in state education and together they made an immense contribution to charities concerned with autism.

Joan Brennan died at Richmond Village on the 5th April. A private cremation on the 24th April was followed by a celebration of her life at Richmond Village on 1st May. Joan's ashes were interred with Ted and Mark at St Mary's church, Barton Mills, in Suffolk on her birthday, the 6th April: the Revd Canon Mark McCaghrey presided at the ceremony.
